PIONEER HARDSHIP

Pioneers did not have an easy time on their journeys. Read about the problems pioneers faced and add information that you already know.

Illness

Pioneers faced many dangerous illnesses like Typhoid fever, Cholera, Dysentery, Diphtheria, and Measles. It was hard to get medicine when someone got sick, and illnesses could be spread very quickly among families travelling together.

Injury

Accidents were not uncommon on the trails. Sometimes people would die from snake bites, broken bones, or falling under the wheels of one of the heavy wagons.

What hazards seem like the worst to you? Why?

Accidents

Crossing rivers could be very difficult, and sometimes entire wagons or travellers could get swept away. In bad weather, people could die in terrible storms.
